

Roienko Veronica.

Forms and spheres of manifestation of social stereotypes in cyberspace and beyond it

We examined the main issues and problems of the phenomenon of social stereotypes in Internet communication in sphere of social philosophy. We analyzed different approaches to understanding social stereotypes. We explored the opinions of students on general ideas of stereotypes. We explained expediency to research forms and spheres of manifestation of social stereotypes in cyberspace and beyond it. The main methods were historical, logical, descriptive, comparative, observation and content analysis. We used a systematic approach. We defined social stereotypes as socially important information in cyberspace. We concluded that social stereotypes are inherent to all people and are an integral part of their being. They have their own specific and characteristic for both cyberspace and beyond, because social stereotypes were existed long before of cyberspace emerging.

Keywords: social stereotypes, information, communication, Internet communication, cyberspace